This package includes information and guidance for preparing and submitting a project proposal for the 2006 Tribal Wildlife Grants Program (TWG) of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Interested tribes need to prepare and submit proposals that describe their project and its benefits for wildlife. A TWG project proposal includes a cover letter, program summary, program narrative, budget narrative, resolution of support, a Proposed Accomplishments sheet and one federal form - Standard Form 424 Application for Federal Assistance (SF-424). Tribal Wildlife Grants Program

Who Can Apply for TWG Grants?

The TWG is a competitive grants program for federally recognized tribes. Federally recognized tribes are listed in the Federal Register (68 FR 68180; December 5, 2003). State recognized tribes, tribal organizations and other non-tribal entities are not eligible to apply. Tribal organizations and other entities may participate as subgrantees or contractors to federally recognized tribes.

Summary of What to Submit:

Tribes must submit one signed original and two signed copies of the complete project proposal. We will not accept facsimile project proposals. Please do not submit excessive copied materials.

When are Project Proposals Due:

Project proposals must be submitted to the appropriate Regional Office listed in Table 1 with a postmark of no later than January 31, 2006.

A TWG Project Proposal Includes the Following

- (1) Narrative Project Description
 - Cover Letter
 - Program Summary
 - Program Narrative
 - Budget Narrative
 - Resolution of Support
- (2) Proposed Accomplishments Form (See Attachment - I)
- (3) SF-424 (See Attachment - II)

NOTE: Following this format is helpful in expediting the review process.

When Will Project Selections Be Made?

We anticipate that we will announce project selections in summer 2006. However, we recommend that tribes check our internet site <http://www.fws.gov/grants/tribal.html> regularly for updates concerning the implementation of the TWG.

Additional Information:

Contact the Service's Regional Native American Liaison that has the responsibility for the state in which the proposed project would occur. The contact information for each Regional Native American Liaison is listed in Table 1. Information on the TWG is also available from the Office of the Native American Liaison, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 1849 C Street, Mail Stop 3012 MIB, Washington, DC 20240 or at <http://www.fws.gov/grants/tribal.html>.

Who Can Help Plan and Implement a Project?

The Service can assist tribes in planning or implementing projects. Through a number of programs, we offer a variety of expertise to assist tribes in planning and implementing projects. For information on how the Service may be able to assist, contact the Native American Liaison in the appropriate Regional Office identified in Table 1. Information is also available from the Service's Internet site at <http://www.fws.gov/>. In addition, many other federal, state, or tribal agencies, as well as conservation organizations, work closely with tribes and may be able to assist with planning and implementing a project.

For general guidance on developing and writing grant proposals, see the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance's Internet site at http://12.46.245.173/pls/portal30/CATALOG.GRANT_PROPOSAL_DYN.show.

What Types of Projects May Be Funded?

Eligible projects include those submitted by Indian tribes to develop and implement programs for the benefit of wildlife and their habitat, including species of tribal cultural or traditional importance and species that are not hunted or fished. Activities may include, but are not limited to, planning for wildlife and habitat conservation, ongoing and/or new fish and wildlife conservation and management actions, fish and wildlife related laboratory and field research, natural history studies, habitat mapping, field surveys and population monitoring, habitat preservation, conservation easements, and public education that is relevant to the project. Land acquisition is not permitted in the current 2006 grant cycle.

TWG funds can be used for environmental review, habitat evaluation, permit review (e.g., Section 404), and other environmental compliance activities provided they are directly related to the TWG project and are discussed in the budget narrative. TWG funds cannot be used to conduct activities to comply with a Biological Opinion or with a permit (e.g., mitigation responsibilities) for another program or project. However, TWG funds can be used to implement conservation recommendations

How Does the TWG Work?

Interested tribes prepare proposals that describe their project and its benefits for wildlife and their habitat. See "The TWG Project Proposal" section for additional information.

The Service will award grants for actions and activities that benefit wildlife and their habitat, including species of tribal or cultural or traditional importance and species not hunted or fished. Additionally, the Service, in cooperation with the grantees, must address federal compliance issues, such as the National Environmental Policy Act, the National Historic Preservation Act, the Clean Water Act, and the Endangered Species Act. For the proposals that are selected to receive funding, additional requirements will be coordinated through the Service Regional Native American Liaison.

The amount of funds, the scope of work, and the terms and conditions of a successful award will be determined in negotiations between the prospective recipient and Service representatives. The prospective recipient must sign a Grant Agreement (Form 3-1552) and specify the project requirements, such as the cost share, the project design, the time commitment for maintaining the project's benefits, and the reporting requirements, and that provides for Service access to the project area in order to check on project progress. In order to receive funding, prospective recipient will also need to provide assurances and certifications of compliance with other federal requirements. The recipient is reimbursed based on the cost-sharing formula in the agreement.

How to Apply for a TWG Grant

Tribes must follow the instructions in this document in order to apply for financial assistance under the TWG. For a description of the information that must be included in a project proposal, please see the "The TWG Project Proposal" section. Tribes must submit one signed original and two signed copies of the project proposal (including supporting information). The project proposal must be received by the appropriate Regional Office listed in Table 1 with a postmark of no later than January 31, 2006. Prior to submitting a project proposal, we encourage tribes to contact the Regional Native American Liaison listed in Table 1 with any questions regarding what information must be submitted with the project proposal. An incomplete proposal will not be considered for funding.

Funding Limits

The Service will award grants up to a maximum of $250,000 for a single project. There is no grant award minimum. Tribes are encouraged to submit a single comprehensive grant proposal however, if multiple projects are submitted and selected for funding, total funding to that tribe will be limited to $250,000.

Matching Funds and Partnerships

Matching funds and partnerships are not required. However, projects that include matching funds, in-kind contributions, and partnerships may score higher in the ranking process. Any partners providing funds or in-kind services must be listed in the proposal with a letter of commitment from each.

Duration of Grants

Grant agreements should be written for the shortest duration needed to accomplish project objectives. Grants may be extended if necessary.

The TWG Project Proposal

The project proposal is a narrative description of the project and a completed SF-424. Tribes will also need to submit an original proposal and two copies.

The project proposal should also indicate the duration of the project and whether partial funding of the project is practicable, and, if so, what specific portion(s) of the project could be implemented with what level of funding. A project proposal that is a part of a longer-term initiative will be considered; however, the proposed project's objectives, benefits, and tasks must stand on their own, as there are no assurances that additional funding will be awarded in future years for associated or complementary projects.

Requirements concerning federal financial assistance include established principles for determining which costs are allowable or eligible based on the type of applicant (see "Administrative Requirements" section). Project proposal must comply with these requirements.

The narrative description of the project proposal should specifically address each of the ranking criteria. Proposals must include a cover letter, program summary, program narrative, budget narrative, and tribal resolution of support as described below.

A cover letter transmits the project proposal and briefly states its main features.

A program summary describes, in one-half page, the type and duration of activity that will take place if the service funds the program.

A program narrative clearly identifies the problems that the proposal will correct or help solve for the protection and management of habitats to benefit federally listed, proposed, candidate, or other at-risk species on tribal lands. It must articulate the following information:

- (1) Assessment of needs,
- (2) Objectives,
- (3) Proposed time line,
- (4) Methodology,
- (5) Geographic location (with maps),
- (6) Number of impacted acres and/or miles of stream or shore line,
- (7) Monitoring plan, and
- (8) Identification of clear, obtainable, and quantifiable goals and performance measures that will help achieve the management goals and objectives of the TWG and relevant Service and tribal performance goals. The relevant Service goals are, in no order of priority;

Goal 1 - Sustainability of Fish and Wildlife Populations including:

- Migratory Bird Conservation (Goal 1.1),
- Imperiled Species (Goal 1.2),
- Interjurisdictional Fish (Goal 1.3),
- Marine Mammal Management (Goal 1.4),
- Species of International Concern (Goal 1.5),

Invasive Species (Goal 1.6),
Goal 2 - Habitat Conservation;
Habitat Conservation off Service Lands (Goal 2.3),
Goal 4 - Partnership in Natural Resources,
Tribal Governments (Goal 4.1)

Additional information can be found in the Service Long Term Strategic Plan for 2000 to 2005 at <http://www.fws.gov/planning/USFWStrategicPlanv3.pdf>. Related Service Planning and results can be found at <http://www.fws.gov/planning/>.

A budget narrative clearly justifies all proposed costs and indicates that the grantee will provide adequate management systems for fiscal and contractual accountability, including annual monitoring and evaluation of progress toward desired project objectives, goals, and performance measures. It should include discussion of direct cost items such as salaries, equipment, consultant services, subcontracts and travel, as well as project matching or cost sharing information. Applicants may cover new administrative costs, but they cannot include administrative costs incurred before project approval. Any partners providing funds or in-kind services must be listed in the grant proposal with a letter of commitment from each.

A resolution of support must be included from the appropriate tribal governing body or a letter from an individual with delegated tribal authority stating their support for the proposal.

A completed Proposed Accomplishments sheet must be included. This information is for administrative reporting purposes and will not be utilized in the competitive scoring process. This sheet is included in this grant application kit.

An SF-424 must also be completed and submitted with the project narrative description. This form and detailed instructions are included in this grant application kit or may be acquired on our internet site at: <http://www.fws.gov/grants/tribal.html>. This form is also available on the Internet at <http://www.gsa.gov/forms/>, at <http://training.fws.gov/fedaid/toolkit/sf424-f.pdf>, on our internet site at <http://www.fws.gov/grants/tribal.html> or from the appropriate Regional Native American Liaison.

Ranking Criteria

The Service has developed the following ranking criteria components for proposals being considered for funding. The Service will use these criteria to evaluate and rank each proposal on a scale of 0-100. Tribes should address as many of these criteria in their proposals as possible.

Benefit: What are the expected benefits to tribal fish and wildlife resources, including species that are of cultural or traditional importance and species that are not hunted or fished, and their habitat if this program is successfully completed? The Service requires that tribes address how their proposals help complement Service Performance Goals. (Maximum points - 30).

Criteria Components

- a. Extent to which the project will reduce or restore losses to fish, wildlife, and plant species of tribal significance.
- b. Extent to which the project will reduce or restore losses to habitats that support fish and wildlife of tribal significance.
- c. Extent to which the project addresses a fish and wildlife resources priority identified by a tribe or other entity in a management plan or recovery plan.
- d. Duration for which the project protects or manages a fish and wildlife resource priority.

Performance Measures: To what extent does the proposal provide obtainable and quantifiable performance measures and a means to monitor, evaluate, and report on these measures compared to an initial baseline? The measures should be specific, clear and provide demonstrable benefits to the target species of the action. These actions should support the goals of the TWG. (Maximum points - 20).

Criteria Components

- a. The extent to which the project identifies a baseline and provides measurable post-project accomplishments.
- b. The extent to which the project will produce measurable results for habitat and/or species.
- c. The extent to which the project implements high priority items and is part of a comprehensive management approach.

Work Plan: Are the program activities and objectives well-designed and achievable? (Maximum points - 10).

Criteria Components

- a. Extent to which project tasks and deliverables (work products) are clearly established and support tribal goals/objectives.
- b. Extent to which the project schedule is achievable
- c. Extent to which the proposal clearly defines and establishes accountability to the applicant.

Budget: Are all major budget items justified in relation to the program objectives and clearly explained in the narrative description? (Maximum points - 10).

Criteria Components

- a. The extent to which all parts of the budget narrative are clear, concise, and complete.
- b. The extent to which all subcontractor costs are defined and appear to be reasonable.

- c. The extent to which the budget narrative and associated budget table(s) accurately reflect all costs, including indirect costs.
- d. The extent to which all in-kind matches are clearly defined, allowable, and adequately described.

Capacity Building: To what extent does the program increase the grantee's capacity to provide for the benefit of wildlife and their habitat? (Maximum points - 25).

Criteria Components

- a. Extent to which the project contributes to tribal self-sufficiency in fish and wildlife resource management.
- b. Extent to which the project results in identifiable benefits toward development or updating of management plan.
- c. Extent to which the project results in the creation or improvement of tribal wildlife ordinances and/or enforcement.
- d. Extent to which the project improves the fish and wildlife management capabilities through infrastructure development and training.

Contributions and Partnerships: To what extent does the applicant display commitment to the project through in-kind contributions or matching funds and to what extent does it involve other non-federal partners? (Maximum points - 5).

Criteria Components

- a. Extent to which the project clearly builds partnership alliances with other tribes, organizations, or agencies.
- b. Extent to which the project leverages technical support and/or financial resources provided through a partnership.

How Will Proposals Be Selected?

The Service's Regional Native American Liaisons will screen proposals for eligibility and will coordinate a regional ranking process according to the nationally uniform ranking criteria. Top regionally ranked proposals will be recommended for funding. A national panel will review and rank remaining proposals and provide recommendations to the Service's Director for funding. The Director will make the final determination for grant approval.

Administrative Requirements

The administrative requirements that apply to all projects funded through the TWG are listed in Table 2. The documents listed in Table 2 establish principles for determining which costs are allowable or eligible ("cost principles") and describe other requirements that apply to all tribes receiving TWG funding. These requirements apply to and must be met by grantees and subgrantees of TWG funding. The Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) can be found at <http://www.gpo.gov/nara/about-cfr.html#page1> (click on "Browse and/or Search the CFR"). Office of Management and Budget (OMB) circulars can be found at <http://www.whitehouse.gov/omb/circulars/index.html>. For projects that are selected for funding, we will also offer additional technical assistance to facilitate the prospective grantee's understanding of the financial requirements.

Best Available Information: It is understood that exact numbers may not be available prior to implementation. If exact information is not readily available please provide as accurate an estimate as possible.

Endangered: A species that is likely to become extinct throughout all or a significant portion of its range (see, http://ecos.fws.gov/tess_public/TESSWebpage)

Listed Species: A species listed as threatened or endangered under the Endangered Species Act

Recreation: broadly defined to include active and passive recreation

Riparian area: The transition zone between permanently saturated wetlands and uplands. These areas exhibit vegetation or physical characteristics reflective of permanent surface or subsurface water influence. Lands along, adjacent to, or contiguous with perennially and intermittently flowing rivers and streams, glacial potholes, and the shores of lakes and reservoirs with stable water levels are typical riparian areas. Excluded are such sites as ephemeral streams or washes that do not exhibit the presence of vegetation dependent upon free water in the soil.

Species: Includes any subspecies of fish or wildlife or plants, and any distinct population segment of vertebrate fish or wildlife

Stream-mile: A mile as measured along the centerline of the stream channel, including all perennial, intermittent and ephemeral channels with associated riparian areas.

Threatened Species: A species that is likely to become endangered within the foreseeable future throughout all or a significant portion of its range (see, http://ecos.fws.gov/tess_public/TESSWebpage)

Uplands: Areas that are not inundated or saturated by surface or ground water and support vegetation dependent on aerobic soil conditions.

Wetlands: Wetlands vary widely because of regional and local differences in soils, topography, climate, hydrology, water chemistry, vegetation, and other factors, including human disturbance. Generally, wetlands are lands where saturation with water is the dominant factor determining the nature of soil development and the types of plant and animal communities living in the soil and on its surface.
